SAID HE HAD THE PLAGUE

A SAILOR MEETS A STORMY EXPERIENCE.

He Was Started on the Way to the Pest Hospital But Suddenly Changed His Self Diagnosis.

A plague suspect was on the Inter-Island wharf this morning for a few moments. He gave his own word that he had the bubonic plague, but it did not take long to change the burden of his song when removal to the pest hospital was imminent.

The man was a sailor who had been out all night. A Board of Health Inspector saw him lying helpless on a bench and thought it his duty to find out if the case was one of plague. He shook the sleeping man several times. "Say, have you got the plague?" he shouted.

"Yes—plague! Wow! Wela ka hao!" yelled the man from the sea. Then he kept up a constant refrain announcing to all the neighborhood that he had plague in every known form and didn't care a bit. "I've got plague. Wela ka hao!"

"Take him to the pest house if he's got the plague," said the inspector. A hand wagon was brought forward by an employee of the steamship company. By this time Jack had ceased to sing of plague and was dreaming about it, lying unable to extricate his legs from entanglement with a chair he had tried to sit in. A Portuguese got hold of him and lifted him bodily into the wagon and began the march up town. The sailor awoke at this stage of the proceedings and came to the conclusion that he was actually being carted off in a pest wagon, to be placed among victims of black death. He scrambled out and issued a general challenge. When last seen he was very comfortably asleep in Captain Haglund's chair in front of the Inter-Island office. Anyone who tried to wake him was gruffly told that he had not the plague.

INCIDENT RIOT AT KALII

THE JAPS ARMED WITH CLUBS ATTACK THE GUARD.

The Reserves Come Up on the Double Quick and End the Trouble—More Trouble Brewing.

There was an incident riot at the Kalihi detention camp last night. Just after 8 o'clock the sentries on duty at the camp gave the warning to the reserves in the military camp, "The Japs are upon us." Instantly the whole battalion was in motion under full arms and in double time. In the darkness the Japs could be seen gathered around with clubs, pick handles, carpenter's tools and like weapons, and bearing down on the sentries. The sentries stood their ground, but some of them were knocked down by the Japs before aid could reach them. For a few moments matters looked serious. It was feared that all the Japs would escape. Some of them did succeed in running the lines.

Guards were instantly doubled and the lines held by these while detachments were speedily sent to charge and recapture those who had run the lines. The Japs were evidently surprised at the military strength displayed and were disconcerted just at the moment when they expected to make good their escape.

The arrival of the reserves quickly ended the trouble which arose over the refusal of the authorities to allow them to use a lot of new lumber for fuel which was intended for building purposes, and also because the Japs were not allowed to burn down a new cottage in which one of their number had died of the plague, until preparations could be made for it.

Today many of the Japs are sullen and some of them are making clubs to use if again interfered with in their plans.

PARIS EXHIBIT.

Major Potter will not be able to get the Hawaiian Exhibit for the Paris exposition off on the Australia. The agents of the vessel definitely refused it as the steamer is taking no Honolulu freight whatever. While they would have liked to have made an exception in favor of the exhibit they felt compelled to refuse to do so under the circumstances, both on account of the possible delay to the vessel at San Francisco and the possibility that the exhibit might be destroyed there by the health authorities.

KINAU FOR THE COAST

TWO ISLAND STEAMERS MAY BE SENT.

The Mauna Loa as a Quarantine Vessel—The Kinau Goes Into Service Again.

Island steamers for the coast trade is the latest plan for using the vessels laid off as a result of the quarantine. The Kinau and Claudine may both be sent with loads of sugar to San Francisco from outside island ports. They could make the trip in about ten days, and have both been kept in quarantine at Honolulu ever since the outbreak of plague. They would therefore have no difficulty in discharging at the coast, it is thought. The Wilder Company has the matter under consideration now, and if the plague situation does not mend the two vessels will probably go. The Kinau is a vessel of 1,000 tons, and is necessary to keep her from active duty. She is anchored in the stream and will serve as a hotel for people who want to travel from Honolulu.

The Claudine has been delayed by bad weather at other points along her route. She has been expected for some days, but up to about noon today she had not been sighted. The prevailing high winds compelled the Claudine to lay idle for hours at several different points. The Lehua, which arrived this morning from Molokai, had the same experience.

CLEAN HEALTH RECORD.

Plague cases, 0; suspicious cases, 0; plague deaths, 0.

Such is the splendid record of today in health circles. Physicians of the Board have had nothing to do. Some cases of illness were reported by the inspectors, but were all of the most ordinary character and caused no alarm whatever.

There is a feeling around the Board of Health office today that the bad luck of Chinatown on Saturday—whether that event was an accident or the "act of God," as some people put it—has settled the situation and that the plague is at last, suddenly but effectively, under control. Some few cases in outside districts are still expected, but there is no denying the fact that the Board of Health feels more confident today than it has since the second outbreak of plague on December 25.

A. MAGEE, AMERICAN

The following is a sample of a surprisingly large number of similar cases reported by inspectors and sub-inspectors to the Citizens' Sanitary Committee.

"A. Magee, refuses to fix a place where the inspector can meet him for the purpose of inspection between 7 a. m. and 8 p. m. Claims that he is an American and entitled to do as he pleases; residence 472 Beretania street."

The committee is endeavoring to find a remedy for this sort of hindrance to the work and is compiling a list for publication.

NIPPON MARU ARRIVES.

PHOENIX ON MOLOKAI

MANY CASES OF FEVER ARE REPORTED.

The Lehua Brings Passengers From There This Morning—Dr. Mouritz Goes to Investigate.

Typhoid fever is the epidemic that has broken out on Molokai, in the opinion of passengers arriving from there this morning on the steamer Lehua. The disease is all over the island, though there are no advices as to the number of cases. The Lehua's passengers are positive that it is not plague of the regulars. The watch is changed every six hours. The watch is changed every six hours.

Only eight military men are now on guard in the Chinatown district. They are stationed at street corners only. Since the full guard was withdrawn inspectors of the Board of Health have had charge of the district. It was thought safest, however, to have a few men with bayonets at convenient points. Regulations regarding the district are the same as prior to the fire. No one is admitted into it without a pass.

Three military men are on duty at the drill shed, where are quartered a considerable number of refugees from Chinatown.

The entire first battalion, consisting of Companies A, C and F, under Major Zeigler, is now at the Kalihi detention camp. The battalion marched to the railway depot about 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon where it took the quarantine train for the camp. Berger's band led the march to the railroad. Each company is to remain at the detention camp two days when it will be relieved by another company of the second battalion. Thus in six days the first battalion will be back in the tents on the Executive building grounds and the second battalion will be on duty at Kalihi.

The National Guard has had a particularly hard time in the past four days. Clean hours on duty were common with most of the men. One first sergeant was on duty fifty-six solid hours, which is an usual record. Today things have settled down to a more normal status.

MR. LOWREY APPOINTED

The Cabinet this morning considered the matter of E. C. Winston's place in the Board of Health. Mr. Winston has been away on the coast for a long time and there seems to be no certainty about his return. On motion the seat of Mr. Winston was declared vacant.

F. J. Lowrey was placed in nomination for the office and unanimously elected. He will be commissioned once and will assume his duties tomorrow. The appointment will give more than general satisfaction.

There are a great many laborers, Japanese and natives who are down with fevers.

CAMP CORPS ORGANIZING.

J. D. McVeigh took charge of the Kalihi detention camp on Saturday. He was in the city last night and returned to his post this morning. Dr. Howard and Dr. Pratt went out last night. Prof. F. A. Hosmer of Oahu college, and Ed. Towse, who had been assigned to the camp, went out this morning. All expect to be there for a period of from three to six months. Mr. McVeigh will complete the selection of his staff during this week. The services of at least a half dozen more responsible men will be required at Kalihi.

MOTHER AND BABE.

Some pathetic incidents have followed Saturday's flight of the refugees from Chinatown. Many of them grow out of the separation of families or of children from parents in the confusion that the fire created.

In one case a babe in arms, a little Japanese, was carried by the father from the burning home. At Kawaiaha church the husband and father with the child were separated from the wife and mother and were sent to Kalihi while the mother was sent to the Kawaiaha hospital.

The infant child, the breast got no nourishment for a day and a half until L. A. Thurston discovered the matter and carried the infant to its mother.

Many children have become separated from their parents and the work of reuniting families is still going on.

WITH THE NATIONAL GUARD

LOCAL MILITARY IS AGAIN IN CONTROL.

Regulars at Kawaiaha Relieved by a Detail of Company G Battalion at Kalihi—Chinatown.

At 12 o'clock noon yesterday the National Guard relieved the twenty-five regulars that had been on duty at Kawaiaha church since Saturday. Colonel Jones will address a letter of thanks to Colonel Mills for the valuable assistance rendered. Fifteen members of Company G, N. G. H., took the places of the regulars. The watch is changed every six hours.

Only eight military men are now on guard in the Chinatown district. They are stationed at street corners only. Since the full guard was withdrawn inspectors of the Board of Health have had charge of the district. It was thought safest, however, to have a few men with bayonets at convenient points. ## CHINESE GIVEN A BATH.

Prefer Wash Cloths to Plunging in the Water.

All the refugees at Kawaiaha church were given a bath yesterday. Hose, half barrels and big tubs were used. Many of the Chinese objected, but all were obliged to submit. However, none could be persuaded to actually get into the water. Wash cloths were the best they could be got to use, but they were made to use these efficiently and with plenty of water. The Chinese have a dread of getting their queue wet. Perhaps the proposed Imperial edict ordering the cutting off of queues, the mere proposal of which overturned the reform party in the Chinese empire, was more deeply philosophical than it was thought to be at the time. It might have opened the way for baths and the cleaning up of the Chinese empire.

REQUEST TO RESIDENTS.

Sanitary Committee Asks Public to Assist Inspectors.

The following resolution was passed and issued by the Sanitary Committee yesterday afternoon:

"Whereas, the present visitation of plague constitutes a condition of serious menace and grave danger both to the public health and commercial interests of the community; it is the sense of this committee that in this crisis of public emergency, it is not only the positive and absolute duty of every householder of whatever rank or station, to facilitate and assist such inspection in full accordance with the instructions of the sanitary committee; but failure to render due assistance and acquiescence is highly reprehensible, and any hindrance or objection, with the object of prevention of the proper work of sub-inspectors, is, in effect, criminal and detrimental to the public health, and inspectors are requested to furnish the names of such persons to the committee for publication."

PACIFIC HEIGHTS.

Pacific Heights is to have plenty of water. George H. Paris has installed one of his Fairbanks Morse Company's combined gasoline engines at the reservoir with a daily capacity of 60,000 gallons. The machine is remarkable for its compactness as it covers a space of 4 by 7 feet.

THE BIG DRILL SHED CAMP

A WONDER OF ORGANIZATION AND PROMPT WORK.

Nearly Thirteen Hundred Asiatics Provided for Under Good Sanitary Conditions—Two Babies Born Today.

Two babies were born as wards to Attorney-General Cooper and his chief assistant, Chester A. Doyle, who have charge of the detention camp at the drill shed.

One of the babies is Chinese and the other Japanese. Mother and child are doing well in each case. Dr. Meyers expects a round dozen more to claim the providing care of Cooper and Doyle within the next ten days.

The Drill shed detention camp is a wonder of organizing force and prompt work. It was created in the darkness of Saturday evening, and contains 957 Japanese, and 276 Chinese, all told 1233, many of them of such tender years that like the 120,000 of Ninevah, they can not tell their right hand from their left. Now there are complete sanitary appliances, a perfect system of policing, a "maternity home, an isolated hospital, a complete kitchen and commissary system, a roof to shelter everybody, and within a comparatively few hours their will be provision for proper shelter for all. A building 450 feet long is now nearing completion which will provide sleeping accommodations for all the men. This building extends from the front of the drill shed makai to Hotel street and then along Hotel street to the Waikiki end of the grounds. This as all the other buildings put up has a corrugated iron roof. It serves the double purpose of providing shelter and enclosing the grounds. On the Miller street side of the Drill shed another building has been erected which provides administrative departments, store rooms supply department and kitchen.

Inside the enclosure is a bath room in which all who are able are required to take a bath daily. Connected with it is a drying room in which those coming from the bath dry themselves, so that more can be accommodated within the same time than if each dried himself in the bath room.

Drs. Meyers and Hodges are the medical attendants. They make two inspections daily, feeling the pulse of every individual and instantly separating those who show any signs of any kind of illness. There has been no illness in the camp except a few cases of beriberi, but even these are isolated. All the buildings and grounds are thoroughly cleaned up twice a day, and disinfectants freely used. The maternity department, the women and the children are looked after by Captain Lotie Mathis of the Salvation Army and Miss Bushfield of the Period Mission. There is need of toys for the children, although thoughtful people have made some provision in this respect already.

Chester Doyle is the executive officer who has been the efficient aid of Attorney-General Cooper in the creation of this, almost a model camp.

A QUESTION OF TERMS.

Violator of the Change of Residence Regulations.

Yamamoto enjoys the distinction of being the first man brought into court charged with violating the published regulations of the Board of Health prohibiting persons from changing their residence from one sanitary district to another without a permit.

"Well, the woman I work for she drunk all time, whip me, I can no stand longer; so I run way," explained the defendant through Officer Toma as interpreter to Judge Wilcox this morning.

"Do the published regulations prohibit a change of residence or a change of abode?" asked Judge Wilcox. This man seems to have changed his abode, but it hasn't been proved yet that he changed his residence."

The Deputy Marshal said that the man was now working at the Buena Vista hospital. He was, indeed, and there was no disposition to press the case. So Yamamoto was warned not to move again without a permit and went back to his hospital duties.
